MacArthur Has Landed on Luzon

General Redeems Pledge to Return and Run Japs Out of Stolen Philippines

General Douglas MacArthur has redeemed his pledge to the people of the Philippines to return and run the Japs out.

He adopted practically the same tactics as were used by the Japs in their sneak attack when they landed on Luzon.

The Navy laid down a heavy barrage, which drove the Japs back from the beachhead. Yank troops went ashore without opposition. American troops are driving on toward Manila without giving the fleeing Japs a chance to reform their lines.

So far the invasion has gone according to schedule, and with the greatest success according to reports which come from Philippine headquarters.

She was a member of the Methodist Church.

March of Dimes Officers Named For Annual Drive

The appointment of Levi Cole as Treasurer of the Randall County Committee for the March of Dimes and celebration of the President's birthday was announced from state headquarters in Dallas this week. Miss Irene Angel will serve as Vice Director for Women's Work. The appoint of J. W. Kleinschmidt as Director was previously announced.

The celebrations, Jan. 14 to 31, will mark the Twelfth annual campaign to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis. Plans are underway now for special events to be staged in Randall county during the campaign period, simultaneously with celebrations in other counties throughout the State. Of the funds raised, fifty per cent will remain in the county for direct assistance to local victims of infantile paralysis, and for preparedness against a possible epidemic here, while the other half will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for national research toward eventual eradication of the dread disease.

Bufs Lost Two Games With U. of New Mexico

The Buffaloes lost two games at Albuquerque this week, being defeated by the University of New Mexico.

The Buffs had taken two games from Hardin-Simmons before going to Albuquerque.

In the first game the Lobos won by a score of 54 to 53. The lead changed several times during the game. The Buffs were never able to get a solid advantage of the New Mexico players.

In the second game, the Buffs were again defeated 37-34.

Australian Women Guard Searchlights

On the crest of a coastal mountain in Northern Australia, a group of Australian servicewomen man an anti-aircraft searchlight battery and mount their own sentry over the installations. These searchlights have not had to pinpoint Jap raiders since the girls took over but they have swung into action on several occasions to lead in battle-weary fliers who have lost their bearings. During the height of the Japanese invasion menace to Australia, there were 98 enemy air raids on the Australian mainland.

George Small Will Be in Charge of Work to Remodel Entire Building

Work will start on remodeling the court house as soon as materials are received.

George Small was employed Monday by the Commissioners Court as supervisor of the work. Harold Walsh is architect and has blue prints ready for part of the work which is proposed.

The first work will be remodeling the cupola, and building a new roof. This is considered the most essential part of the remodeling job in order that the building may be preserved. The roof has been leaking for years, and all attempts to repair the leaks have proved inadequate. The new roof will be in hip form, covered either with heavy tin roofing, or asbestos shingles. The material used will depend upon the materials which are available.

Probably the greatest changes inside the building will be made on the third floor. It is proposed to lower the ceiling 4 or 5 feet, completely remodel the district court room, and enlarge the small offices so as to make them useable.

The Commissioners have decided to do this remodeling as labor and materials are available. When it is determined that the court house has a good roof, then inside work will be undertaken.

Canyon Boys Hold Another Reunion in "Sunny" Italy

Lt. Hud Prichard, Jr., writes the News of another gathering of Canyon boys in Italy. The letter reads:

"Between 'sloshings' in the mud of Sunny Italy, I thought I might tell you of our second get together of Canyon men.

Lt. Roy N. Byrd, Jr., Lt. E. Burroughs, Lt. Bob Ziegler, and Sgt. James T. Harp came over from their wing to see me recently. We in turn went to see Col. Horace D. Aynesworth (of Childress and Canyon) who is the Group C. O. here.

Lt. Byrd is now a Squadron Bombardier in the 46th Bombardment Group. Lt. Burroughs and Lt. Ziegler and Sgt. Harp are in the 46th B. Group and I am in the 54th.

One of the most ingenious things I have seen over here is the way in which Roy's crew has built a home, using nature's materials and salvaged parts from the B two dozen. At this time Roy has 16 sorties; Bob has 2; E. has 3; James has 5; and I have 10. It takes 35 to finish this tour of combat.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

The war is in its third year.
More than 10 million men are under arms.

The farmers of America have raised unprecedented crops to feed our troops and our Allies in spite of dwindling manpower and in spite of the fact that their farm machine is wearing out.

The people of America have generally responded to the call of the government. We have generally abided by rationing with only minor gripes; we have met every financial call for finances; the people are saving their money, and not blowing it in for useless gadgets; we are doing everything possible that the government asks.

A national service act could have been passed by Congress with ease in the early stages of the war. But the 10 million unionists led by CIO and AFL objected. The President turned thumbs down on the proposal.

Our forces have suffered setbacks in recent weeks. The Russians and British have been letting us do the fighting. Hitler is throwing everything he has at American troops.

The President has called upon Congress to pass the strictest war measures that the nation has ever had. Race tracks are closed; national conventions are abolished; more farmers are going to be taken from the farms; 4-F men are going to be forced into war jobs, or recalled to the army; nurses are to be drafted; rationing has been tightened.

We have been told very little about the heavy losses in war. Have they been so heavy that it is necessary to do all this clamping down in the 3rd year of the war?

The people should be told the truth, rather than scared by imaginary fears. Every parent with boys on the Western front is more worried than ever before. The enemy knows more about our troops, our equipment and our losses than the people at home know. While we are being scared into doing the things which should have been done three years ago, we should be told the truth, as terrible as it might be.

Also, who and what is to blame for this sudden emergency? Some one has muffed the situation, and that some one should be exposed.

We shall all be glad when Jan. 20 rolls around. Then we shall know the fate of Henry Wallace. The predictors are about to run out of predictions which have to do with the present Vice President, who failed re-election by order of The Chief. Most politicians would have sulked after such a let-down. Not Henry; he stayed in there and pitched harder than ever. Chances are that it was his influence which really carried the election for Roosevelt. Such loyalty will be rewarded.

Remodeling the Randall county court house is a "must." The Commissioners have been aware of the dangers to the building for some time, but the necessity of war has delayed action. The work can be done for a small percent of the cost of a new building. Furthermore, it will be many months after the war ends before materials are available for new construction. Those who have examined the court house highly approve of the steps taken by the Commissioners Court to start work on the building as soon as practicable.

All last year we were told by so-called military experts that we could expect victory in Europe in 1944. Many newspapers printed up Victory Editions, ready to distribute when the good news of victory was announced. Germany has not collapsed because every German has a gun at his back. We are now told that 1945 should see an end of the war in Europe. Our experts have made a terrible mistake in their predictions.

It is definitely agreed that Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin will meet soon after inauguration on Jan. 20.
Recent events have started a rift between the three nations which could cause disaster if these three do not succeed in reaching an agreement. England and Russia are looking after their own interests, while we are trying to whip Germany.

There was only one business failure in Texas during 1944. Anyone who can get any merchandise at all can succeed in such times as these. But there will be at least 25% less merchandise available until Germany is whipped.

SPEAKING OF RATIONING

It isn't difficult to understand the disappointment felt by housewives when they learned that ration rules have been revised. Not that it isn't necessary. But because the suddenness of it all caught many folks unaware of the fact that they had in their possession unused coupons which, they had been assured, were to be valuable for an indefinite period.

Many have withheld trading their sugar points for instance, in the belief that by so doing, they were avoiding hoarding. The result will be, we fear, that when next coupons are available, there'll be a rush to get them all cashed in so they'll not be caught again.

But let's look at the other side of the picture. This revision, we are told, is because of the setback our armies have suffered on the western front. Instead of victory over Germany by Christmas, we face many more months of bitter struggle.

Our gallant troops all over the world are going to need more food, more butter, more canned stuff than had been anticipated. The supply at home must be husbanded. The boys fighting on land and sea get first call. That's the way it should be. So let's take it in stride and willingly make an extremely slight sacrifice on our part to help those who are giving their all to preserve the American way of life.

That's the true spirit. Still, we can't refrain from one gripe—the announcement that throughout the month of January the makers of whiskey are to have a "holiday." In other words, while food rations are restricted, the distillers are turned loose for a month.

We're not familiar with manufacturing booze. We never made any of it. But our impression is that it requires sugar along with other ingredients. Are we correct?
Must civilians do without sugar while distillers can use all they need to make hard liquor? It doesn't make sense!

Maybe the President still thinks that the nation can drink itself back to peace and prosperity, as he advocated in the repeal of national prohibition.

IF ALL ARE EQUAL

One thing that puzzles a lot of people and brings dismay to some people is the entirely different manner in which the government deals with different classes of offenders.
What is law in one case seems to be anything in the world except the law in a case that is practically the same.

For instance, the resolute manner in which the authorities deal with Montgomery Ward and the positive refusal of the government to take any punitive action at all in the case of James Caesar Petrillo.
If two entirely different governments, representing two entirely different countries, had been involved in these two cases, the course of those governments could not have been more entirely different. Both Montgomery Ward and Mr. Petrillo had practically defied the government. Both had refused to obey the orders of constituted authority.
Regardless of the rights of these people and regardless of their real or fancied grievances, both of them had defied the government of the United States.

But how differently the authorities responded to those two acts of defiance. When Montgomery Ward began to act up the government fell on the offending company with devasting force. Troops rushed in and took possession. The attorney general of the United States moved in and assumed control of the board of strategy. Everybody on the payroll seemed bent upon showing the recalcitrant company just how all-powerful the government is.

But no troops moved when J.
Caesar Petrillo issued his defy. The attorney general was busy elsewhere. Even the commander in chief himself was highly tolerant.
A government that had breathed out threatnings and slaughter against the Montgomery Ward offenders was both timid and apologetic when Petrillo told it where to go and when.

Whether the government acted properly or unwisely in this case or that one we would not undertake to say. But it is evident that it was wrong in one case or the other.
A government always is wrong when it administers one type of justice in one case and an entirely different type of justice in the other case.

When the government deals harshly with its political enemies and deals timidly with its political friends, it is doing an inexcusable thing and that is exactly what our government is doing. It is punishing its political opponents and kneeling down pleading before its political supporters. And that is a terrible thing to do in a country where all citizens are supposed to be equal.

FOR THE RECORD

The professional guessers now estimate that the war in Europe may drag on for a year or more.
Reconversion plans have been postponed and munitions output is being spurred to new heights. This means that government war spending will continue indefinitely at the rate of around $7,000,000,000 a month. It means the public debt may soar beyond the $300,000,000,000 mark.

Sometime ago a belated effort was made to raise taxes in an all-out effort to stem the rise in the public debt, thus maintaining a

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat sound financial foundation under the coming peace. The effort was smothered in optimistic predictions that the war would soon be over and that we could therefore escape the immediate impact of its cost.

We have tried to overlook the obvious fact that the greater the discrepancy between income and outgo during the war, the greater will be the problem of lowering taxes after the war.

SHOE ON OTHER FOOT

This war has held many surprises.
In the beginning, for example, it was freely predicted that small business would be almost completely wiped out. It wasn't. In some instances it has expanded at the expense of larger business. In retail distribution the trend has definitely been in favor of the small independent merchant.

Chain food stores accounted for 35.5 per cent of food store sales in the first quarter of 1942. The first quarter of 1943 saw their share shrink to 30.5, and ease still further to 29.2 per cent in the same period of 1944. The low point was 28.9 per cent for the fourth quarter of 1943, according to Commerce Department figures.

Of course the chains are not going to be put out of business by the independents any more than the chains could put the independents out of business. Given the opportunity, both forms of merchandising will prosper.

The principal point which the above figures emphasize is the danger of tampering with the free play of competition by legislation designed to give special benefits to groups presumed to be the competitive underdogs, through levying special taxes against groups presumed to have a competitive edge.
A few years ago attempts were made to penalize chain stores on the ground that they controlled the bulk of the retail business and were ruining the independent merchants.

After the war is over every form of merchandising will be needed if our great production capacity is to be translated into higher living standards for consumers.

About the only complaint this paper hears on the new rationing is that it should never have been taken off before election.

If you would live to a ripe old age you'll have to quit about everything that makes you want to.

The Abernathy Review pulls a new stunt. The new year is printed 194V in that newspaper.

BUILDING SOIL BUILDS PEOPLE

Building up a soil-depleted, rundown farm, also builds up the farm operator, both physically and mentally," says Frank Mendell, state soil conservationist for Iowa. When the farmer blots out the scars of erosion by covering them up with grass and legumes; when he changes bare weedy pastures to knee-deep feed, in which good livestock graze; when gullies become wide grassed waterways and steep hillsides are covered with brome and alfalfa, not only the farm but the farmer gets a new outlook on life. Productive soils mean larger incomes. Better incomes mean improvement of the home and farmstead. Boys and girls take pride in a productive farm, in better livestock, in a comfortable home. A better income means more time for living. Farm work has a purpose above mere drudgery. There is a greater incentive than merely making more money, in the building up of the productive power of the soil.

A truly great economic tragedy in America has been that necessity to produce cash crops at a price too low has meant robbing the soil—a soil that future generations have to depend on. Our forests, our mines, our oil wells, our fisheries, our soils, are the great natural resources of America. No single individual should have been allowed to exploit and exhaust them.

"Building Soil Builds People."

OLD HANDS AT KEEPING AHEAD

Keeping a jump ahead of a competitor has always been the cardinal objective of the successful American enterprise. With this background, United States business men, when war came, turned from trying to outdo each other, to keeping ahead of the enemy in scientific development and production, like a duck takes to water. They have not only been a jump ahead of the enemy but also, in most instances, have managed to keep a step ahead of the demands of our own military leaders.

Up to now, 100-octane gasoline has been considered the last word in aviation fuel. And yet representatives of the oil industry have announced that "whenever the military authorities say the word, most the flames of individual ambition, greatest military power on earth

FEWER TIRES for January

New tire quotas released by the Office of Price Administration for January reveal that fewer tires will be available for both passenger cars and trucks. For the next several months, no improvement is expected, as the military demands are greater than ever. The Army, itself, is putting into service hundreds of thousands of tires by repairing and recapping. We, on the home front, must take better care of our tires if we wish to continue driving. And that goes for Everybody!

TAKE CARE OF YOUR TIRES

Repair - - Recap

Even those eligible for new tires may not be able to get them under the reduced quotas. Heed these simple instructions. Drive carefully. Keep tires properly inflated. Have tires inspected regularly and have all bruises, holes or breaks repaired quickly. When tread is worn smooth, RECAP PROMPTLY!

DO YOUR PART — WE'LL DO OURS TO KEEP YOU ROLLING!

Military Training Was Subject Talk at Rotary Lunch

C. A. Murray discussed proposed military training which is now being advocated by President Roosevelt and is endorsed by many citizens in the nation. It is proposed that all young men, physically fit, shall give one year to the government between ages of 18 and 23 years. The type of training has not yet been devised.

Mr. Murray outlined public opinion of the subject and gave the views of various groups who favor this training.

The Gallup Poll recently showed that 80% of the people favored some type of military training.

Of 1400 school superintendents interviewed, 85% were for more intensive military training for youth, while 73% were for compulsory training.

The United States Chamber of Commerce stands 90% in favor of this training. The American Legion has long advocated this training.

All of the cabinet members were reported in favor of the training, while the President has suggested it to Congress.

Washington and other early presidents favored compulsory training. Theodore Roosevelt was a strong advocate of this type of training. Congress has always rejected the idea in favor of a citizens army when force is needed.

General George Marshall has issued a study on the question, giving an outline of his ideas and the ideas of others. His conclusion is that the nation cannot afford to continue without an adequately trained military force. He believes that the men would profit both physically and mentally as a result of the year's training. Discipline has fallen down in the homes and the schools, and this would be a good opportunity to correct this defect. Mr. Murray stated that after his study of the subject, he believed that this training was necessary for the future protection of the nation.

Opposition against such training is being expressed throughout the nation. Robert W. Jones summed up the opposition as follows: The Germans and Japs have always had compulsory military training; France had it since 1798; Poland and other overrun nations have practiced this. Delinquency will not be corrected by military training, and the physical training is not correcting all physical defects as shown by the 10,000 medical discharges per month which is being given men in the armed forces today. The practice of a citizens army has always met every emergency which confronted the nation, and this is a more democratic way of meeting national defense.

The only way for Congress to determine the will of the people is through letters from the people. Both Mr. Murray and Mr. Jones urged citizens to write to their Senators and Representatives giving their views on the subject.

Visitors were: W. S. Norman, C. R. Janack, R. E. Wertz, N. S. Griggs, Emil Myers, Arch Hunsley, Rev. R. M. Schnidler all of Amarillo; R. L. Thompson, A. O. Thompson, of Hereford; Tom Knighton, Jr., of Canyon.

"KEEPING A REPUTATION"

Have you ever thought about how one goes about keeping a reputation? We all know there are certain boys and girls in any school or community that have the "rep" for being rough. Being seen with one or more of this type of person does much to tear down a reputation. A reputation can be ruined as easily by a person that is always sour on the world, never is able to see the bright side of life, and is always pestering others. Why are these people considered rough? There are various ways to explain this. Some people, mostly girls, don't dress with as good taste as others. This doesn't mean expensive clothes, but being able to pick the kind to wear. The boys are usually estimated by their choice of language in public.

One should think carefully before committing any of these things, because a reputation can be destroyed much easier than it can be built up.

Crabtree Expects Top Bond Sales

Starting Tuesday morning the War Bonds and stamps booth opened for sales. Beginning the New Year with the highest rate of sales during the school year, students bought a total of $15.

"Just that we have exceeded our goal for December 7, 1944, doesn't mean that we have done our duty for 1945. Let's continue to buy stamps and bonds and try to do better in 1945 than we have done before," said Miss Birdie C. Crabtree, sponsor of sales.

Eagle Pepsters Beg Rides to Tourney

Did you ever want to go to a good basketball tournament? Did you ever ask anybody to take you to Claude so you could yell for the Canyon Eagles in the final game? We did. "Course we didn't insist very much, because of the tire and gasoline shortage. We only begged, twisted the arms of sixteen people, offered to shine shoes or pay for the gas. In fact we did everything but highjack somebody just for the use of their car. We even thought about that.

Please, mister, could you take us to Claude to the . . . Oh, you couldn't take us? Well, we'll be glad to buy the gas and grease your car and wash your windshield and fix your flats and . . . Oh, you couldn't take us? Well, thanks anyway.

Hey girls! There's a kind man that looks like he might take us. Well, won't do any harm to ask. Say, mister, could you take us to Claude to . . . Well, don't get so horsey. We just wondered.

I guess that's the last straw. We'll just have to miss the game. No, I'm not gonna give up yet. We just HAVE to go to that game!

We didn't give up and you can bet your shoe strings we got a way over there, too.

Ah . . . Now we could rest easy. We were on our way and boy were we having fun! Some bright somebody in the front seat started a song. I can't remember it all but it was something about Pistol Packin' Mama.

Pass the chewing gum. I gave you four sticks a while ago. What did you do with it? Chewed it? Every bit of it? I guess it lost its flavor? Well, here's four and a half more. Now don't bother me any more for at least five miles.

Uh . . . Oh . . . There goes that song again. Pistol Packin' Mama! The only hard thing about it all was getting a way over there; but we did that and boy did we have a swell time!

Council Promotes Various Themes

Representatives to the Student-Faculty Congress and Supt. J. B. Speer met last Thursday morning for a business meeting.

After calling the meeting to order, the president, J. Spencer Winn, called for the business of the day. On request of the annual staff, candidates for school favorites were nominated. Betty Brown reported that the school board has given its permission to go ahead with the Youth Center. Seniors will be in charge of the first program on Thursday, January 18, from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. in the high school gym. It was decided to invite the Hugo Brandt Concert Company to give a lyceum number which was presented yesterday.

Your old friend Cal happened to attend the world history class the other day and my! You should have seen the apples on Mrs. Sanders' desk. I wonder what the motif was. After all, semester tests won't be coming up for a few weeks. It must be because her students love her so.

Just a bit of scandal I heard the other day—Rita Gunter thinks Donnell Ruthart is just as cute as he can be. Of course Donnell doesn't know anything about this, but it is time he was finding out.

It seems that some people like to bang up their knees by falling down the stairs! You looked so cute kneeling at the foot of the steps the other day, Wilma Schuette.

Even though the theater is too light to suit almost everyone, it does have its advantages. Saturday night Cal spied Mary Frances Colwell and James Lair gazing at the film on the screen.

The quiet man in the crowd had grown tired of the boastful talk of the others. So, when there was a lull in the conversation, he began: "This morning I went over to see a new machine we've got at our place, and it's astonishing how it works."

"And how does it work?" one asked.

"Well," was the reply, "by means of a pedal attachment a fulcrum lever converts a vertical reciprocal motion into a circular movement. The principal part of the machine is a huge disc that revolves in a vertical plane. Power is applied through the axis of the disc, and work is done on the periphery, where the hardest steel by mere impact may be reduced to any shape."

"What is this wonderful machine?" chorused the crowd.
"A grindstone."

The young man had taken too many cocktails and suspected his table partner was aware of it. With careful politeness he offered an apology. "And anyway," he added, "though I may be under the influence of inebriol, I'm not so thick as you drink I am."

Home at Christmas for a five day leave was Cpl. Joe Vern Hales, graduate of Canyon High School in 1940. Joe Vern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hales and is stationed at Alexandria, Louisiana.

Seaman 2-c J. Ray Hunter, 1944 graduate, spent his ten day leave in his home during the holidays. He is training for a special gunner rating on a merchant ship.

Quintet Accepts Tourney Award

Standley and Taylor Join All-Tournament Players

With Charles Taylor setting the precedent by making the first goal, the Canyon Eagles led in the first half of play in the finals of the Claude Invitation Basketball Tournament held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. The West Texas High Calves rallied with the half score of 17-15 and stayed in the lead to win, 33 to 29. J. Spencer Winn was high point man, rolling up ten points during the battle.

Charles Taylor, guard, and Don Standley, forward, were chosen for the all tournament team and received small gold basketballs. This choice was made by a group of coaches and was based to a degree on sportsmanship.

Paced by Charles Wright, who meshed 10 points for top scoring honors, the Eagles edged past the Hedley quintet 36-20 to gain the quarter finals. Half-time score was 18-4 and the Eagles had an easy lead during the entire game.

Friday night the Eagle squad reached the semi-finals by defeating the Lakeview Eagles 32-28. The local boys had a 6-point lead at the half but the Lakeview quintet rallied in the closing minutes of play to narrow the margin.

In the semi-finals the Eagles played and defeated the Tulla Hornets by the score of 39 to 23. The Eagles led in the first half and continued to rack up the scores to enter the finals with W. T.

Teams entering in the meet were Canyon High School, Hedley, Groom, Lakeview, Quail, Tulla, Carey, Borger, Adrian, Claude, Panhandle, Clarendon, McLean, Price, W. T. Goodnight, Lella Lake, and Samnorwood.

Canyon High, as second place winner, received a 14-inch trophy. The base is wooden and a gold plated player is mounted on the top of the hardwood stand. The engraving will be done later.

THE SEAL OF SCIENCE

SOLID FOUNDATIONS are being constructed for the days of reconversion and a gradual return to an industrial peacetime economy. Testing and research programs have been geared to preparing for future eventualities both on the basis of demands of the immediate postwar period and for meeting any challenges that change may bring in the period to follow.

Research, quite naturally, plays the greater role in these endeavors, for a growing and constantly advancing progressive technology provides the fundamental concepts for meeting the challenge of change. Vigorous prosecution of an accelerated research program has brought technical advances of great significance and its stimulating effect will undoubtedly elevate them to constantly higher levels. Thus the Laboratories Approval Seal, which for many years has distinguished gas appliances of merit, will continue to be a symbol of technical competence and workmanship worthy of the public confidence which it enjoys—for Research Lights the Way!

If your gas appliance displays the Approval Seal of the Testing Laboratories of the American Gas Association, you may rest assured that that appliance has met the rigid requirements and tests to which it has been subjected. The Seal of Science is for your protection.

Advisory Group For Veterans Plan Future

"G. I. Bill of Rights" Provides for Education

Training and educational services to be offered by West Texas State for veterans have been organized and released for publicity by the Veterans Advisory Committee of the college.

The program is planned on the basis of the "G. I. Bill of Rights," formally known as Public Law No. 346, which was passed by Congress last year. The aim of the "G. I. Bill of Rights" is to provide education for those whose college training was interrupted by required military service. 90 days in any of the armed forces entitles the veteran to one year of college at government expense; further study is conditioned on satisfactory work and the amount of time spent in service. Not more than four years of college at government expense will be provided for any veteran.

During the time in college, tuition, books, fees, and equipment will be furnished by the government. A maintenance allowance of $50 will be paid to men or women without dependents, and $75 to men or women with one or more dependents. The veteran is free to choose his own college or university; individual arrangements must be made with each college on the basis of its requirements for admission.

West Texas State will offer courses especially designed to be effective in the Division of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, Division of Business Administration, and such vocational training programs as Agriculture, Home Economics, and Industrial Arts.

Leaflets containing full information are being mailed to such veterans organizations as United States Employment Agencies, Council of Veterans Affairs, and civic clubs, and may be obtained in the Office of the Registrar.

The faculty committee in charge of post war veteran's services includes Dr. D. A. Shirley, Dr. A. M. Meyer, Dr. A. K. Knott, Mr. John A. Gillis, Mr. Herschell Coffee, and Mr. Mitchell Jones.

V-NEWS

After the loss of many pounds of sugar, and with even stricter rationing, many of us, again, are searching for sugar-saving recipes. The angel food cake is always a favorite with everyone, but if iced requires a great deal of sugar. However, the karo icing offered requires no sugar, and with the coming of springs, eggs will be more plentiful; so, to those interested in a sugar-saving, never-failing angel food cake and icing, the following recipes are given:

- Angel Food Cake
- 1 cup sifted cake flour
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 1 1/2 cups egg whites
 - 1/2 t salt
 - 2 t cream of tartar
 - 1 t vanilla
 1. Sift flour and sugar separately.
 2. Add 1/2 cup sugar to flour and sift 3 times.
 3. Beat egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar and salt and continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold shape.
 4. Add sugar gradually, folding in after each addition.
 5. Fold in flour about 1/4 at a time.
 6. Fill large angel food pan one-half full.
 7. Bake in cold oven: Temperature 325 to 350 F. Time: 1 hr. to 1 hr. and 15 minutes.

- Karo Icing
- 1 cup karo
 - 2 egg whites
- Boil karo until it sheets off of spoon and becomes very thick and heavy. Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Pour karo into egg whites, beating constantly, and continue beating until thick enough to spread. This icing may be thoroughly chilled and still be easily managed.

HIGH FINANCE

A man noticed one morning that his newsboy had a puppy on his stand with a "For Sale" sign over him. Idly, he asked the boy how much he expected to get for the dog.

"Fifty thousand dollars," replied the youngster. "I won't take a cent less." The man whistled and passed along.

A few mornings later the man noticed the dog was gone. "Sell your dog?" he inquired.

"Yep," the boy grinned. "Did you get your price for him?"

"Yep. Took a couple of twenty-five thousand dollar cats."

It's too late to learn when you think you know it all.

Josh Billings said, "Remember the poor—it costs nothing."

And he also remarked, "There is two things in this world for which we are never fully prepared and them is—twins."

Recently, we told some Cotulla legends about O. Henry, as gathered by Deputy Sheriff John Wildenthal. To him, we are indebted for an interesting little incident about Will Rogers. He met the cowboy humorist up North somewhere and mentioned what his home town was.

"Cotulla!" exclaimed Will. "That's where I'd like to settle down—a place where you don't need a lawyer." And he then related an occurrence when he was in Cotulla about 1906 with a small Wild West show. Two ranch owners, who had been having a controversy about some land, met in the town and a fight resulted. They were big fellows and the scrap was a dandy. When it was over, they shook hands and that was the end of the argument about the land.

"That was probably the cheapest settlement of a case there ever was," Will chuckled.

WHAT GALL

The lane was dark and almost deserted. Little Jones was suddenly accosted by two men, the larger of whom stopped him, and said, politely: "Excuse me, sir; I wonder if you could oblige me with the loan of a penny, or some similar small coin?"

"Why, yes; I think so," Jones replied, feeling in his pockets, producing a penny, and handing it over. "It's a small request—er—may I ask for what purpose you require it?"

"Certainly, sir," the fellow replied. "My mate and I wish to toss the coin to settle our little argument as to which of us shall have your watch and which your wallet!"

In prehistoric times, the camel, the elephant and the rhinoceros were inhabitants of North America.

REPORT TO TELEPHONE USERS

Our job in 1944 was twofold: To do everything we could to keep a steady stream of communications equipment flowing to the army and navy—as much as they needed—and, at the same time, to maintain quality of service as high as possible for the folks here at home.

worked almost 100 per cent on war orders. At home there were unavoidable delays on some long distance calls, but local service, on the whole, was good.

Here in the Southwest telephone facilities were stretched to the limit. A total of 260,000 persons asked for service and got it. Some 233,000 of these took the places of customers who ordered their telephones disconnected. Telephone people squeezed in the additional 27,000 by hard work and ingenuity. Nevertheless, about 185,000 applicants still are on the waiting lists because there just isn't enough equipment to go around.

For the new year, the telephone company's plans hinge upon the demands of war, of course. But certain things will be done, you may be sure.

We shall continue to provide service for those who are waiting just as rapidly as we can. However, in 1945, as in 1944, war demands will be met first and on the average it will be a considerable time before a person may apply for service and get it without delay.

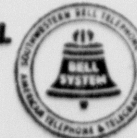

Those employees who are released from the armed services will be welcomed back, and a hearty welcome it will be. There will be a lot of work for them, too.

We'll begin to clear the decks for the big telephone job that will come after the war—to plan how improved devices from Bell Telephone Laboratories, and materials and equipment from Western Electric factories will be put to work for you.

That's the balance sheet of what's done and what's to do. Of course, the volume of our business has been greater than ever before, but so are our operating expenses. In fact, our rate of earnings on the telephone property during these peak war years has been less than during the worst years of the depression. There have been no war profits for the telephone company, which is exactly as it should be.
